FOREWORD

With the Wardlaw Country Day School a year old, additional changes have been effected without altering the familiar 78 year-old facade of the school.

Under the supervision of Mr. Charles H. Detwiller, Jr., President of the Board of Trustees and eminent Plainfield architect, "blueprints for the future" were drawn up. Many changes in the old section of our school were made, and the new addition with its classrooms and auditorium has already contributed to the life of the school.

These changes and improvements are a living proof of the promise of a vital future.

It is the purpose of the 1961 Maroon and Gold, as has been the aim of every Wardlaw yearbook, to present a vivid picture of school life — to help you remember and to make remembering a pleasure.

HAROLD BREENE

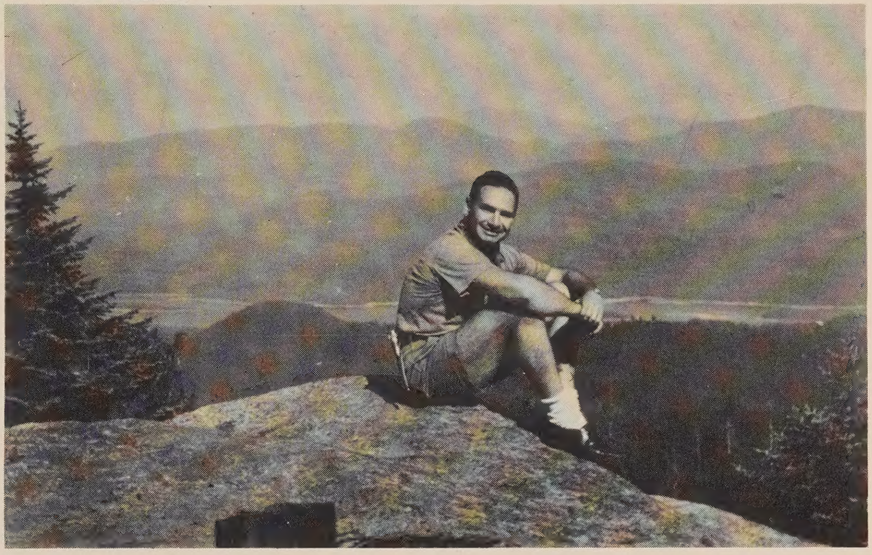
DEDICATION

This year the Maroon and Gold is especially proud to honor Mr. Harold Breene, our Director of Athletics. Mr. Breene is not only a fine science teacher and athletic coach but also a vigorous individual with many diversified interests ranging from skiing to square dancing. His Camp-Roll-Along, which sponsors summer trips to New York State for canoeing and winter trips to Vermont for skiing has become a tradition here at Wardlaw and will be long remembered by those boys who have embarked on nature's trails with him.

Too, his assuring voice has been an inspiration to us who have been engaged in athletic contests. We have come from behind to win, many a time, when his booming voice shouted forth, "Let's go, Wardlaw!"

It is the sincere hope of the yearbook staff that Mr. Breene will continue to inspire the boys of Wardlaw in the future.

What do you mean, "Where's your towel?"



On Top of Old Smokey!

"When can I play again, Doc?"

"When's Daddy coming home, Mom?"

CHARLES DIGBY WARDLAW

IN MEMORIAM

I am an adventurer on life's high seas.
I have tasted the salty tang of wind-blown billows;
The spray of gray waves has washed my body;
The splendors of the sunset have bathed my soul;
And in the quiet of the evening
I have gazed down into green depths
Where life stirred and moved
Like some deep undercurrent of a great emotion, —
Waiting only for the dawn.

from CHAFF by C. D. Wardlaw, 1925

Few men in a lifetime touch the lives of so many young men so constructively as did Charles Digby Wardlaw. As a teacher he taught more than one learns in books. He strove to build character. He taught good sportsmanship, good manners, a love of beauty, and respect for the rights of others.

Mr. Wardlaw's interests were not limited to the fields of education and athletics as is shown by the fact that he maintained a leading position in community affairs.

The passing of "Pop", as he was affectionately known, will be felt deeply by his boys, his friends, and by all who knew and loved him well.

The
WARDLAW COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL
1959

Late in 1959, a newly organized group of prominent men purchased The Wardlaw School and formed a non-profit corporation.

In the past eighteen months, their accomplishments have been many. The proposed addition, which was in the planning stage last year, is now a reality. Thanks to these capable leaders, the Wardlaw Country Day School now proudly exhabits three new classrooms and a new all-purpose room with an adjoining kitchen. The Trustees have also accomplished extensive redecoration throughout the older part of the building.

It is with a great deal of admiration that the students, the faculty, and the staff of the 1961 Maroon and Gold wish to express their sincere thanks to this far-sighted planning.

HEADMASTER

PRENTICE CROSS HORNE

Mr. Prentice C. Horne has been with Wardlaw for two years and already his services have become immeasurable. He has achieved an extremely close relationship with his students and faculty members. Whenever boys have problems they take them to Mr. Horne, and more times than not, these problems have been solved by the time the conference is over.

Mr. Horne is a graduate of Deerfield Academy and Amherst College. He served in the Navy during World War II. After the war he returned to Deerfield as an instructor and administrator. In the latter capacity he was in charge of admissions to the Academy as well as of guidance for college placement. This background is invaluable for counseling all of Wardlaw's upper school students.

We at Wardlaw are very fortunate to have a man of Mr. Horne's caliber as our headmaster. His experience and understanding will be invaluable to the boys leaving our school for college.

We will remember our senior year with gratitude under the leadership of our headmaster, Mr. Horne.

Mothers' Association

For many years, the Mothers' Association has been an effective adjunct to our school. Collectively and individually their vast energy and creative output are, we believe, unmatched in any other school anywhere.

Again, in 1961, under the direction of Mrs. Edward E. Gunther, president, another productive year for the association has been concluded. The library and reception room were tastefully redecorated and refurnished.

The Charles D. Wardlaw Memorial Library Fund is enjoying the fine support which was anticipated. Many volumes have been given to the library, and numerous gifts, large and small, have enabled the steady growth of the library to become a reality. The careful preparation of book selection is going forward; all who use the library or view its transformation should know that Mrs. Robert F. Hahn, a member and former president, is the person who has worked so tirelessly to catalog the books and restore the room to usefulness.

The mothers' group has aided in sponsoring many school functions including the Thanksgiving Banquet, the Christmas Carol Service, the dedication, dances, and receptions. In addition to the officers pictured on this page, special mention should be made of the invaluable contributions in time and effort expended by Mrs. Edward J. McNamara, publicity chairman, and Mrs. James R. Brewer, Library Fund chairman. Mrs. Herman A. Dreyer and her helpers operate a very well-regulated store. We voice our praise and thanks to all of the mothers for their continuing service.

JUNIOR CLASS

The class of 1962, although considerably reduced in number, possesses ample potential, individually and colectively. The boys are interested not only in scholastic activities but also in social affairs. Fortunately, the loss of numbers through the years has neither daunted the Juniors nor lowered their morale. Their main objective is to procure a good preparation for college.

Sports is an area where the Juniors should not be overlooked, for five of the members have participated on varsity clubs. Two of these participants have already been elected captains of varsity soccer and cross country.

These students, who will be next year's graduating class, have contributed variously to the success of school activities throughout the school year.

The members of the class of 1963 are outstanding both in the classroom and on the playing field. This year the Sophomores were well represented in varsity sports including squash, tennis, basketball, soccer, cross country, baseball, and wrestling.

The men of '63 are most active in Wardlaw's extracurricular activities, which include Student Council, Beacon, Maroon and Gold, and Glee Club. The members are not without Honor Roll distinction. They enjoy sociability as evidenced by their regular and active participation in school affairs.

In the years to come, this large and promising class will continue to grow in spirit and leadership until they are ready to take their rightful place among the leaders of the Wardlaw Country Day School in 1963.

The class of 1964, one of Wardlaw's largest, consists of nineteen members. It is unique in having the greatest number of new students entering high school this year. Three of the class were acclaimed the "Best All-Around Boys" during grade school; five were first string champion football men; one member captained this year's Junior basketball team and another was co-captain of the gridiron squad.

Realizing that Wardlaw's future depends on every student, our Freshmen will endeavor to maintain the high traditions.

CURRICULUM

The greatest mistake anyone can make about knowledge and understanding is to suppose that they can be acquired, once and for all, in the course of one's youth and by passing through school and college. - - - An intelligent adult soon learns how little he knows and knows how much he has to learn. He soon comes to understand that if his education were finished with school, he, too, would be finished, so far as mental growth or maturity of understanding and judgment are concerned.

ACTIVITIES

Man must build his culture about the complete human personality . . . Whatever nourishes the personality, humanizes it, refines it, deepens it, intensifies its aptitude and broadens its field of action is good. Whatever limits it or thwarts it, whatever sends it back into tribal patterns and limits its capacity for human cooperation and communion must be counted bad.

Student government is a most important non-academic student activity at Wardlaw. Its two-fold purpose is to interpret student sentiment on school organizational matters and to act in accordance with established school policy. Student government is accomplished through its officers and members selected proportionately from the four high school classes.

The 1961 Student Council has been a vital part of high school life, acting as spokesman for the undergraduate classes. In its small way, the Student Council has attempted in the best possible manner, to represent the sixty-four high school boys of Wardlaw.

Wardlaw Beacon

Honor Roll Announced

The Wardlaw Beacon, our school newspaper, now in its eighth year, is the youngest school organization. It has shown a finer method of preparation than in past years. Reaching a budget of 700 dollars the Beacon staff, directed by co-editors, Richard D. Doorley and Joel B. Schwartz, published twelve interesting issues. Along with the regulars, the staff has published several three or four-page specials.

In the course of the past year the newspaper has expanded tremendously. A publication room, formally the old kitchen, helped the board by providing ample working space. Later a circulation program was introduced which distributes the Beacon not only to the boys but also to parents and alumni. These and other improvements proved to be the formula for a successful year for the Wardlaw Beacon.

MAROON AND GOLD

CLOCKWISE: James A. Chesnut, 3rd., Treasurer; Gregori Lebedev, Associate Editor; James R. Gessner, Associate Editor; Edward E. Gunther, Jr., Advertising Manager; Stephen K. Millis, Editor-in-Chief; John B. Freeman, Business Manager.

This year we of the Maroon and Gold staff hope to improve upon the outstanding, award-winning annual of 1960. We have strengthened our book by the use of better photographs, a more appealing layout, and the addition of a new Academic section.

It is the sincere hope of our seven-man board that you will receive as much enjoyment from reading our yearbook as we have had in producing it.

SOCIAL

The Student Council-sponsored dances in 1960-61 were limited to two informal affairs, a record hop in the Fall and a casual March dance with a four-piece band. The two informal gatherings were accompanied by the two traditional dances, at Christmas and in June.

The Christmas Ball was the first Wardlaw dance to be held in the All-Purpose room, and contributed greatly to the holiday spirit; while the Commencement Dance was the culmination of the year's activities, especially for the Seniors, and it was a rousing success.

Although there was not as much social participation as the Senior Student Council would have liked, the upperclassmen's social whirl was supplemented by a good many parties given at various residences in the Plainfield area by our friends from Plainfield Avenue.

VARSITY SOCCER

This year's varsity players upheld the Wardlaw tradition by having a strong soccer team. The capable offensive line consisted of the wings, Rich Doorley and Graham Lang, the insides, Jim Gessner and Greg Lebedev, and the center forward, Bob Doorley. Backing them were the halfbacks, Don Gildea, John Freeman, and Steve Millis. On defense was Bruce Kurre and Scott Ziesenis as fullbacks. The last defender was Wardlaw's goalie, Jerry Chesnut.

Captain of the team, which ended the season with a 6-4-2 record, was Bruce Kurre. The entire squad performed commendably and enjoyed the competition with other schools.

Wardlaw's scoring punch was centered around the Doorley twins whose combined efforts in twelve games tallied twenty-seven goals for the Maroon.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1961 Varsity Basketball team enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in many a year, when the squad compiled a record of seven wins and six losses. Mr. Michael Blazo assumed the responsibility of head coach for the past season and he did a remarkable job in developing his group into a well-drilled basketball team. Coach Blazo was fortunate in that he had some good material with which to work. Seniors Greg Lebedev, Bruce Kurre, and Captain Jerry Chesnut, along with Juniors Graham Lang and Jim Collins were invaluable to the team as they comprised the starting five. Also of great assistance to these starters were Bob McNamara, Rich Doorley, Steve Millis, John Freeman, and Jim Thompson.

The 1961 Varsity Baseball team should enjoy an even better season than it did last year when it posted an 8-3 log. Since most of the 1960 squad has returned, this year's ball club, co-captained by Richard Doorley and Edward Gunther, will profit by the returning of these experienced players. There are also several excellent prospects from last year's Junior Varsity squad who have a good chance of making the "ranks". Since the greatest graduation loss was the pitchers, the varsity club will have to count heavily on last year's J.V. pitchers. Coach Michael Blazo, a seasoned veteran of the professional ranks, is very optimistic about his squad's chances — in fact, he is hoping for an unblemished campaign.

For the second consecutive year, tennis, on an interscholastic level, has been prominent at Wardlaw. Surprisingly enough, this spring sport in 1961 has attracted over fifty Middle and Upper School boys.

As a result of this amazing popularity, coach M. Gale Hoffman has been forced to form a Junior Varsity and Junior team, both of which will enter into competition with other schools in the area.

Mr. Hoffman's primary interest, the Varsity, has high hopes for a successful season. With eleven matches scheduled plus the state tournament at Lawrenceville, the squad will have ample opportunity to prove its merit. However, all concerned are confident. The singles players Joe Sandford, Dave Walley, and Captain Greg Lebedev, together with some excellent doubles prospects, may prove to be a victorious combination.

MIDDLE AND LOWER GRADES

"I believe in boys and girls, the men and women of a great tomorrow, that whatsoever the boy soweth, the man shall reap. I believe in the curse of ignorance, in the efficacy of schools, in the dignity of teaching, and the joy of serving another. I believe in the wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of a printed book; in lessons taught not so much by precept as by examples; in ability to work with the hands as well as to think with the head; in everything that makes life large and lovely. I believe in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises, and in the divine joy of living."

This year's eighth grade has twenty-one students, six of whom are new in the school this year. The members of the 1961 class have done well in their scholastic work and have contributed much in the way of athletics. The eighth grade also has three members on the Junior Student Council, including its President. Some of the boys in this class are in the Junior Glee Club, and contribute greatly to it. The other activities of the Middle School have also been sparked by the boys of Wardlaw's 1961 eighth grade, who will add immeasurably to school life in future years.

SIXTH GRADE

As some of our present class of twenty boys review our years at Wardlaw, we recall how in the third grade we took turns going to chapel because there were not enough seats and how in the fourth grade we presented a play, without benefit of a stage. The next year we felt like the upper classmen of the lower school, making honor rolls, winning awards in public speaking and in athletics. With our good preparation we believe we will continue to hold our heads high and eventually become one of the finest classes at Wardlaw.

Appreciation

To the Advisors of the 1961 Maroon and Gold:

As Editor-in-Chief of the 1961 Maroon and Gold it is my pleasant duty to compose this letter of appreciation to our advisors, namely, Mr. Ralph C. Harris, Mrs. Jane F. Smith, Mrs. Mildred S. Little, and Mr. Robert B. Vietor. These individuals have given not just what is required of yearbook overseers, but also congenial assistance from interested associates.

I wish that I could do more than just devote a page of appreciation for their time and effort, but it is my sincere hope that it has been as much a pleasure for them in producing this book as it has been for me.

On behalf of the entire 1961 Board, thanks again,

"There is only one thing which will really train the human mind, and that is the voluntary use of the mind by man himself. You may aid him, you may guide him, you may suggest to him, and, above all you may inspire him; but the only thing worth having is that which he gets by his own exertions, and what he gets is proportionate to the effort he puts into it." — Lowell

Look to the future
NOW . . .

Life long study and character traits are being formed every day at Wardlaw School. Each student is being prepared for his proper place in life. Today he'll need the daily reading of his newspaper to keep abreast of the times.

Newspapers provide you with daily recordings of history, politics, sports and local news. You're never too young to start good habits . . . start now by reading your newspaper fully.
